the concurrent tenures of gillian clarke as national poet of wales carol ann duffy as uk poet laureate liz lochhead as scots makar and paula meehan as ireland professor of poetry defied historic rifts between women poetry and nation this book explores the extraordinary changes these women fought to achieve as each made her way from marginalised poetess of the 1970s to laureate at the heart of cultural establishment in the 21st century it looks at how they revitalised these public offices and explores their interventions in contemporary geopolitics and national self understanding it considers how they shaped their roles by engaging with poetic icons of the past by linking poetry and education and by joining poetry with politics since 1978 the editors have collaborated on several research projects and spent many hours at conventions discussing research graduate education and patient care the idea for this volume arose when we both concluded that the area of behavioral pediatrics needed a how to book several important scholarly re views had recently appeared they presented excellent summary information concerning the general assumptions and theories underlying the area of behavioral medicine with children but these volumes devote very little attention to the application of clinical methods what was needed we thought was a book that would allow graduate students and practicing clinicians the opportunity to peer into the minds of eminent practitioners and understand their thinking thus the book was conceived editing books represents a special kind of challenge one has to sell an idea to a group of distinguished colleagues they have to believe enough in that idea to devote the considerable time and effort necessary to bring thought into reality in this case there were two ideas we tried to sell to our colleagues

this is a story about one woman's journey through life her journey began in a small town during the 1940s and follows her through many steps from being a housewife and mother raising four children and surviving two failed marriages to pursuing a career and learning how to fly an airplane something which changed her life forever this story is about the freedom and joy of flight and much more it is about family confidence exploration adventure and making friends it is about facing disappointment and finding the courage to persevere about challenging yourself and meeting life head on it is a story filled with much inspiration and hope the connection between childhood and poetry runs deep and yet poetry written for children has been neglected by criticism and resists prevailing theories of children's literature drawing on Walter Ong's theory of orality and on Iain McGilchrist's work on brain function this book develops a new theoretical framework for the study of children's poetry from tongue to text argues that the poem is a multimodal form that exists in the borderlands between the world of experience and the world of language and between orality and literacy places that children themselves inhabit engaging with a wide range of poetry from nursery rhymes and Christina Rossetti to Michael Rosen and Carol Ann Duffy Debbie Pullinger demonstrates how these tactful works are shaped by the dynamics of orality and textuality
